

Senior Consulting and Leadership Roles

General Overview

Brooke is seeking talented senior management consultants and engagement leaders who are passionate about challenging the status quo and thinking differently to solve our clients' most complex problems and deliver them exceptional market results.

Brooke is a recognised leader in mastering the most complex challenges that organisations face globally. Enabling confidence and certainty, we're unquestionably a top-tier partner for organisations wanting to be the best in their industry.

We achieve this by unlocking capability with confidence through evidence-based approaches and methodologies. To do this we:

- Turn data into insights, action and results better than anyone else. Companies around the world trust us for our expertise and experience.
- Have a global reach that combines world-class expertise with local problems.
- Provide leading insights in the sector to drive high performance.

Senior Consulting Leadership Roles at Brooke

We are looking for team players who can contribute their leadership capability, consulting and business acumen to a community of savvy professionals who will truly value your contribution. This role will give you the opportunity to work with individuals who have experience and skills that you can leverage in a collaborative environment that underpins the success of the group. Brooke offers interesting, varied work and flexible working arrangements with regular travel on the eastern seaboard.

Who are you?

As a highly experienced and capable senior practitioner, you will most likely have built your capability as part of a large or medium Consulting firm. You are ready for the next chapter: a different platform, a progressive business model, flat management structure, collaborative team environment and long-term income potential.

You will be able to lead aspects of our business and contribute to strategy development in your fields of expertise. You take accountability for leading, managing and delivering consulting engagements, as well as for ensuring adherence to quality standards.

You have well developed existing networks and enjoy building business and maintaining relationships with key clients. You develop, guide and mentor other consultants and work collaboratively with all of your colleagues and associates.

If this sounds like you, we would love to have a chat about opportunities in our team. To apply, send your resume to confidential@brooke.global.
